Official Rules and Regulations

Rules which have been changed for the 2024 Livestock show are highlighted in green

General Rules and Regulations

(Please read carefully)

1. The Junior Livestock Show will be open to 4-H and FFA members who are enrolled in a public, private or home-based elementary or secondary school in Eastland County at the time of the stock show, or home-schooled children who reside outside Eastland County, and are bona-fide members of an Eastland County 4-H club or FFA chapter by November 1. (Enrollment in public schools will be verified by the school districts. Home schooled children or children in private schools must provide a certificate of enrollment by an accredited school.)

They must have fed, fitted and cared for the animal under the supervision of a vocational agriculture teacher or a county agent to be eligible to show. Exhibitors must be at least 9 years old or in the Third Grade. (Exceptions - See Rule 2)

If the school rules the child ineligible to show, the animal is ineligible to show. If a child is academically ineligible for any part of the stock show, you are ineligible for all the stock show. Exhibitors may not participate in any other county stock show once they have entered the Eastland County Livestock Show until May 31, of the show year. Violation of this rule may result in forfeiture of awards and/or premium sale money and/or a ban from future Eastland County Livestock Shows. If asked, exhibitors must provide documentation of their eligibility to ECLRA to be allowed to show. ECLRA reserves the right to solely determine eligibility in these matters.

Students changing school districts after the entry date do not have to pay a late entry fee, but their animal(s) must be either state-validated or a prior ag teacher or county agent must confirm ownership or validation in another county to be eligible to show. The student must be able to provide proof of membership in a 4-H or FFA club (prior to the November 1, deadline) in their former county.

2. Any child enrolled in Kindergarten – Second grade in public, private or home-based school and has not otherwise met the age and grade requirements in General Rule One, may show breeding animals.

3. All entries must be turned into the General Superintendent by December 1, of the year prior to the stock show. Entry Cards must be in a single individual's name when turned in. Exhibitors who miss this deadline may pay a late entry fee of $50 per exhibitor until 8:00 pm the Wednesday of the stock show. The late entry fee does not exempt an exhibitor from observing validation dates for market animals or ownership dates of breeding animals.

4. Entry fees are as follows:

- $20.00 for individual cattle and calves, including single commercial heifers)
- $35.00 for a pen of three commercial heifers
- $15.00 for sheep, goats and hogs
- $15.00 for poultry entries (pens of broilers and individual turkeys)
- $15.00 for market rabbit pens
- $15.00 for each breeding rabbit

5. All breeds and species subject to market validation must be owned by exhibitors by validation day. Breeding animals must be owned by December 1, except breeding beef heifers (not commercial heifers) which must be registered in the name of the exhibitor by November 1. (See commercial heifer rules.)

6. Steers, commercial heifers, market swine, breeding swine, market lambs, market meat goats, market angora goats, and rabbits must be validated. County Market Validation Day will be respective of State Validation Day. Goats will be validated the same day as sheep. Market rabbits will be validated at least 30 days prior to the show. Breeding beef heifers (excluding commercial heifers) must be registered in the exhibitor's name by November 1, immediately preceding the show. (See commercial heifer rules.)
Accept scrapies/TLBA tags for lambs instead of county validation tags(Lambs still have to come to validation).

7. The Superintendent will assign pens and stalls before check-in time.

8. All animals to be shown must be in their respective places:

9. The superintendent of each division will classify animals according to breed at the weigh-in station; or the Association may hire a team of three classifiers to assist the superintendents. When classifiers are present, the decisions will be made on the majority opinion of the classifiers. The decision of the classifiers is final. Once a decision has been made, the classifiers cannot reconsider or re-examine the animal. When a team of classifiers is not present and the decision of the superintendent is challenged, then a committee of three age teachers or a committee of two teachers and the county agent will determine the correct classification. No individual representing the town or organization of the animal being challenged shall serve on the committee. The superintendent shall appoint the committee. Only the exhibitor and animal can go through the classifying and weighing area.

10. All animals in breeding classes must be representative of their breed but do not need to be either purebred or registered except where specified by department rules. (See Breeding Beef Rules)

11. All animals that are of quality, type or conformation that will not be a credit to the show will be sifted by an appointed committee. All sifted animals must be removed from the grounds as soon as possible.

12. All entries must comply with Texas Animal Health Commission regulations. In the event an animal seems sick, the owner of the animal will have the animal examined by a certified veterinarian. It will be the discretion of the veterinarian to determine if the animal is fit to show. If the animal is not fit to be shown, it will not be allowed on the show grounds. All costs associated with the veterinarian's visit will be at the expense of the owner.

13. Market animals may not be shown in a breeding class, but female animals not qualifying for their market class when weighed in may be switched to a breeding class. Animals shown in breeding classes are not eligible to be shown in market classes.

14. Exhibitors must show their own animals unless they have two or three in the same class or they have extenuating circumstances approved by the Show Superintendent. Any substitute showman must be eligible for and entered in the county livestock show. No one can receive help in the show ring, except from show officials, unless they have a disability. You must control your animal at all times-this includes all species.

15. All animals are released after they have shown.

16. Market and breeding rabbits and broilers will be shown on tables with no hutch or pen. Turkeys will not show on tables.

17. Swine exhibitors must declare a breed on their entry cards or the animal will show as a cross.

18. Judges are to be secured on or before July 1.

19. No one will be allowed to spend the night on the show grounds. Curfew starts at 11:00 pm during nights of the show. A security guard will be on duty each night.

20. No hay will be allowed as bedding.

21. No supplemental or artificial heat sources will be allowed in the livestock barns.

22. All exhibitors are expected to keep their part of the aisles clean and neat at all times.

23. The Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association shall not be liable in any matter for loss, injury and/or accident to any person, animal or equipment, either exhibitor or spectator.

24. All animals and equipment must be off-site by 2 hours after the completion of the premium sale Saturday night. Failure to remove animals or equipment will result in a further 10% deduction from sale checks.

25. There will be a Code of Conduct for all exhibits, parents and spectators to adhere to while attending the Eastland County Stockshow.

Special Showmanship Rules

1. Showmanship will have 3 divisions:

Junior---Kindergarten-5th grade

Intermediate---6th grade-8th grade

Senior---9th grade-12th grade

2. Breeding and market showmanship will be separate (except for beef showmanship)

3. Participants who owned and exhibited their own animal in each division may choose to compete for showmanship honors. Participants must show their own animal from the respective division being judged in the showmanship competition. Participant eligibility will be verified and ear tags cross checked off the division roster before exhibitors may enter the arena to compete for showmanship. Showmanship winners will receive a buckle at the awards ceremony. The showmanship competition may be run in heats.

4. The ECLRA shall present an award to participating 12th Grade exhibitors who have shown livestock at the Eastland County Livestock Show for at least ten (10) years.

Special Auction Rules
